Invitation

The International Workshop on Tuberculosis Vaccines is organized by Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and United Nations Development Program (UNDP) to exchange and discuss aspects related with tuberculosis vaccine development for human and veterinary application and to have the opportunity to identify common interests for the implementation of international collaborative projects. The Keynote Address, Interactive Workshops, and Poster Sessions will give an unique opportunity for discussion and cooperation to all colleagues from Academia, Industry, Governmental Services, and Research Institutes who are interested in sharing their latest experiences in these fields. We look forward to the great opportunity to welcome you warmly at our International Workshop on Tuberculosis Vaccines in Cuba.
